

Application on the cost of facilities and rates, the tariff, and the pipeline route set forth in the Phase II Application. The Phase II Amendment adopts the 35-mile Wells to Westbrook, Maine segment of the Joint Facilities, including two laterals (the Westbrook Lateral and the Haverhill Lateral) and two meter stations as the proposed Phase II Facilities. The 24-inch pipeline previously proposed in the Phase II Application from Westbrook, Maine to the U.S.-Canada border for service starting in 1999 is unchanged by the Phase II Amendment. Also unchanged is Maritimes' proposal for a 1998 Phase II interim service which will include service to the Westbrook Lateral and the Cousins Island Lateral.

Maritimes states that its revised estimated cost is about $387 million. Originally, its Phase II cost estimate was $404 million. The cost estimate revisions are based on an allocation of its share of the Joint Facilities costs, and the revised estimated cost of its own facilities from Westbrook to the U.S.-Canada border. The revised estimate for the Westbrook to Canada segment is based on updated facilities cost information (primarily lower estimates of labor expenses), more environmental information and analysis, and pipeline route changes. The cost for the 1998 facilities decreased from $63 million to $61.8 million, while the cost for the 1999 facilities decreased from $340.9 million to $325.5 million.

The rates proposed by Maritimes have been revised to reflect Maritimes' new cost estimates. The initial rate for Maritimes' 365-day firm transportation for Phase II service from Canada starting in 1999 is now $15.0858 per MMBtu; previously it was $15.7551 per MMBtu.<sup>4</sup> The calculation of the revised rates and charges is included in Exhibit P to the Phase II Amendment.

Maritimes states that minor tariff changes may be needed to coordinate matters such as measurement or quality specifications with PNGTS. To the extent necessary, such changes would be filed with the Commission. Other than the changes to the proposed rates, the proposed tariff, including rate schedules, and general terms and conditions remains unchanged from the supplemental tariff filing in Docket No. CP96-809-001.

Maritimes requests that the Commission issue a Preliminary Determination on Phase II by May 31,

1997, and a final certificate for Phase II by December 17, 1997.<sup>5</sup>

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said Amendment, or the supplemental tariff filing in Docket No. CP96-809-001, should, on or before April 15, 1997, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street, NE, Washington, DC 20426, a motion to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 or 385.214) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding.

Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules. Take further notice that pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission or its designee on this Amendment if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the Amendment is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission, on its own motion, believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedures herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Maritimes to appear or be represented at the hearing. Anyone who has already filed a motion to intervene in Docket No. CP96-809-000 need not file a motion to intervene again with the Commission.
